The journals Studii si Cercetări de Calcul Economic si Cibernetică Economică and Economic Computation and Economic Cybernetics Studies and Research, published by the Bucharest University of Economics, are some of the most important scientific journals in our country, due to the value of the studies and articles published throughout the 43 years of uninterrupted publishing.

Important personalities of the Romanian scientific arena can be found among the founding members and on the Editorial Board:

Academy Member Octav Onicescu, Academy Member Grigore Moisil, Professor Nicolae Racoveanu, PhD, Professor Edmond Nicolau, PhD, Professor Vladimir Trebici,

PhD, Professor I. Cuculescu, PhD, Professor Octavian Stănășilă, PhD, Professor Constantin Bălăceanu-Stolnici, PhD, Professor Aristide Halanay, PhD, Professor Mircea Petrescu, PhD, Professor Gheorghe Boldur, PhD Professor Ion Văduva, PhD, Professor Silviu Guiașu, PhD (USA), Professor John Rose, PhD, General Director of the World Organisation for General and Cybernetic Systems, Professor C.V. Negoită (USA), Professor Robert Vallé, PhD (France).

The English-language Journal of Economic Computation and Economic Cybernetics Studies and Research, which contains different articles than those included in the contents of the Romanian-language version, is sent abroad as part of exchange partnerships with similar journals, thus being present in the libraries of over 50 universities throughout the world (USA, France, England, Japan, Italy, Russia, Hungary, Germany, Sweden, India, Australia, Brazil).

During an evaluation dating some years back, this journal ranked 25 in the world top list of specialised journals.

The articles published in these journals belong to the field of contemporary economic sciences, including:

- economic cybernetics and systems theory;
- statistical-mathematical modelling of economic phenomena and processes;
- microeconomics and macroeconomics;
- operational research;
- game theory and decision theory;
- econometrics and data analysis;
- marketing;
- risk and uncertainty modelling;
- artificial intelligence, expert systems and neural networks;
- software tools for analysis, statistics and forecasting;
- modelling of financial and banking phenomena.

The Journal „Studii si Cercetări de Calcul Economic si Cibernetică Economică” is included on the list of journals evaluated by the National University Research Council, in the B + Category.
